

21st Century Villages in Cheshire Event

How can Cheshire communities respond to the challenge of Climate Change?

Cheshire Community Council, Cheshire Federation of Women's Institutes and Cheshire County Council are hosting a free event that might provide some of the answers.

When: Wednesday 12th September between 7-9pm (Cheshire food buffet available from 6.30 until 7pm), Middlewich Civic Hall

The aim is to bring together individuals to show them a range of tools to enable communities to respond to the challenge of climate change.

- Come and see how the communities of Ashton Hayes, Bollington and Congleton are all working to reduce their carbon footprint.
- Find out how the faith community can positively contribute to reducing their environmental impact.
- Find out more about the WI's commitment to tackling climate change, including their involvement with the Eco Teams programme.
- Learn more about energy efficiency and renewable energy for your home and community buildings.

Also at the event learn more about

- Producing a carbon footprint for your community.
- Local tree and hedgerow planting
- Car sharing schemes
- Energy Crops
- Funding sources for your environmental projects.

The event is free, but due to venue size places are limited. To register contact Louise Hare on 01244 354115 or louise.hare@cheshirecc.org.uk
